Controverted Election Bill. In one thing pointical we may fairly of annexation which has been presented claim to be considerably ahead of some other representative communities; whilst in other things political, we are yet sadly behind, The one thing in which we are alread, is the mode for the trial the established asages and rules of the of controverted election returns. He e Senate petitions from foreigners are not tofore in this colony, when we had a representative legislature, we have had The Vice President sustaine Legislative Assembly. We have even seen a Speaker draw five names for a preliminary election committee, and put three of them on the side of the citting They were exited by any usurper, Barz, member. A lu two weeks after we have who was now engaged with the aid of seen the self-same Speaker draw exactly American guns, in the work of selling his the same names out of a hat to try a country, They protested against this catenation of causes produced such a remarkable coincidence, we are unable to dispujed election. What singular couremarkable coincidence, we are unable to principles of justice, they were not en-explain. Possibly some one better titled to be heard here. After some inversed in the doctrine of chances may determine it accurately; but the popular opinion of the day thought the causes could be discovered in the political tendencies of the manipulators. Again, we have beard of a member of un election trial committee, totally una ble to make up his mind without an ad-journment of the committee, and even then, before he could do so, several town lots charged hands. These are against Sumner's right to proceed, as he trifles illustrative of the good had already decided in the case of the old way in which peltical opponents were treated under a past regime. We have said enough to show that even in a Senator from Mas accusetts. small community there was something very rotten in the mode of conducting controverted elections. We live, however, in a progressive age ; and the rights of individuals as well as constituencies are being better understood But, we question much whether we would have had a better system of trying disputed elections, had Great Britain not set the example. Even in Ganada, Sir John A. Mucdonald said that his Government did not intend to refer controverted elections to the law reference to the Superior Courts. Out of civic precedents then, we have the English law to try such disputes before one It is presumed that our judges will not be i fluenced by party predilections,but wiff see that full justice is done to the sitting member as well as the petitioning candidate. Candidates at forthcoming elections, who may have any notion that party influence can keep a member in his seat, wrongfully, may as well banish the ides. Hereafter, there will be no scrutiny of the votes cast. But if a candidate gets the majority of votes in the registered list, he, it duly qualified, and is not guilty of bribery or treating, or other laterdicted acts, will be elected, and entitled to his seat in the Legislature, beyond the power of any

Election Bill that was passed yesterday is what we call a good law. It may in fact, we believe it will require modification. For instance, all trials will be heard in Victoria. This is owing to not having lawyers on the beach, instead of the present County Court Judges. A controverted election brought from Cariboo is, consequently, likely to be a costly affair. But by getting rid of the present unprofessional men now on the County

Court Bench, and replace them not

WASBINGTON, March 13'-Summer presented an address to the Senate remonatrating against the proposed annexation of San Domingo, signed by the President of the Central Junta of the Government of the Dominican Republic [late President of the Supreme Court, late minister of State and Senator of the Republic]; also by Da Bonilla, late Senator and President of the Supreme Court : by Valveda, General of the National Army and late Senator and member of Congress; Carios Nonce, late Attorney of the Supreme court Secretary of State and Minister of Foreign affairs, and members of Cou.
gress; Eusebeo Prurire Brigadier General of the National armies; Yespana, Counsellor of Republic and ex-attche to the sellor of Republic and ex-attche to the Department of Justice; Felix Challes and Augustine Bellini, Colonels in the army; Manuel Picieuni, a late official of the Republic, and otners. The paper is in spanish, dated San Carlos de Aguarditla, Island of Puerto Vico, January 16th. It alleges that Baez, for the purpose of accomplishing the approximation of San Department of complishing the annexation of San Domingo to the United States, a deed forbidden by the Constitution of the Republic, has caused many patriots opposed to the project to be executed, impressed many sore, and imposed vigorous ostracism upon a majority of the influential citizens; that, for the same object of realizing his intention and to deceive the Government of the United States with an appearance of legality, he has forced an appearance of legality, he has forced Dominicans to assemble for an election, and compelled with threats the greatest part of the citizens to vote for annexation against their convictions and interests esult in grave complications for the consent of the United States; in fatal consequences for the sons of the soil, and that it would be a violation of international law. Therefore the memorialists, in the name of themselves and their coun by the Government of President Basz to

Sammer, Sterman submitted a point that the memorial was not in order, as, under allowed to be presented to the exclusion

The Vice President sustained the point Summer then proceeded to state the ubstance of the memorial. He said the ormal remarks as to the rights of Sumper to proceed when no question was before the Senate, that Senator was about to continue, when Morton inquired whether, if it was in order for Summer to make a speech at this time rgainst San Domingo, a reply would be in order. If so, he was in favor of letting that gentleman go on. The President said that if a question of order was raised he should have to decide

Since the local elections nothing importance taken place, has the people are looking forward to the approaching contest for the Commons with considerable interest, and they are wondering at the delay in issuing the writs.

The advantage of the country to the farmers are so great that they need only be mentioned to be appreciated. Land is to be had for nothing or next to noth-Courts to test their validity. So far an acre will be charged; no clearing is ing,-probably not more than fifty cents then, Canada is behind the age. Political shuffling appears to be a little too convenient in Canada to give every one his rights. Long ago disputed civic elections have been settled in some countries by the farmer produces can be sold for cash and at a higher figure than in Ontario or English law to try such disputes before the law Courts. Our imagnates, in their last gasp of power, not so much possibly out of their love of fair play as through distrust of the people of British Columbia, have quested a law by which all controverted elections will be decided by the Judges of the Supreme Court. The principle, we are happy to say, is a sound one. It is necessarily that our induces will be decided with the present population for some years to come, so there is no cause to years to come, so there is no cause to the supremental that our induces will be decided by the control of the Supreme Court.
